

Parlour Show Results for November 2023

Six exhibitors brought in sixteen items for us to view this month. It was an un-judged show, so it was all up to our voting members.

The Peoples' Choice winners were Elaine Smith (arrangement) for her fall leaves collection, Sylvia Anderson (edible) for her apple and cherry tomatoes and Bonita Elliott and Janet Cram tied for the flower category with a Cleodendron Tricoloneum Berry and Firecracker plant. (arrangement). Congratulations and thanks everyone!

The next Parlour Show will be in February. Stay tuned for the new schedule coming soon.

We are: Marg Kirkpatrick, Jan Dew, Lynn Nash, Della Garvin, Bonita Elliott, and Janet Cram your, Parlour Show Committee

P.S. Thanks to everyone helping me identify the weird volunteer in my garden. Guesses included; ginseng, ginger and Jerusalem artichoke, but my favourite was mummified alien lobster. I thought it was some kind of sunflower. Wrong! Thanks to a brave, learned member who took her life in her hands and taste tested it. It is indeed a Jerusalem artichoke. Who knew? Not me, but many of you did☺
